Ebony Leather Interior interior, This 2014 Ford Ranger 3.2 TDCi Wildtrak pickup boasts exceptionally low mileage for its age, having covered just 69,912 miles, and has been cared for by only two owners. This manual four wheel drive double cab model is powered by a robust 3.2 litre diesel engine, offering dependable performance for a variety of tasks. The Wildtrak trim level signifies a well equipped vehicle ready for both work and leisure.

With a substantial towing weight of 3350 kg and an impressive payload capacity of 1047 kg, this Ranger is built to handle demanding jobs. The low mileage and limited ownership history suggest this vehicle has been well maintained and offers excellent value compared to other similar pickups on the market. Its four wheel drive system provides confidence and capability in diverse driving conditions.
