This 2016 Ford Transit Custom offers a reliable solution for those needing a dependable work vehicle. As a 2.2 TDCi 290 Trend L1 H1 model, this van combines the practicality of a short wheelbase and low roof configuration with the well-regarded Trend trim level. It is powered by a 2.2 litre diesel engine, providing a solid performance baseline for daily tasks. The five door layout ensures easy access to the cargo area, making it a functional choice for various business or personal requirements.

The 123 bhp output from the diesel engine provides a balanced level of power that helps this van stand out when compared to entry level alternatives. Choosing the Trend variant means the vehicle includes a higher level of standard equipment than base models, which enhances the overall driving experience and daily usability. This combination of a capable engine and the well-equipped Trend specification makes it a practical and efficient option for anyone seeking a versatile commercial vehicle. Owned and used by ourselves, tried and tested, clean, wanted for nothing.
